Factory Player Testimonials

“This past summer was my first working with Factory Hockey Player Development and their staff. The workouts were catered to work around my individual needs and goals for the upcoming season, while addressing reoccurring injuries which have hindered me in past years. The coaching staff’s knowledge of the human body, exercise physiology, and proper periodized progressions through the offseason; along with on ice skill development simulating game like scenarios while working on individual skill work has left me feeling extremely prepared for this upcoming season.”
